

Schools' Exhibition

11 January 2025 | from 11:15
University of Nottingham
NG7 2RD, UK

The full conference programme will be published in September 2024.

Participants can view a wealth of professional learning and science education networking opportunities across all 3 days of the annual conference, along with links for booking tickets for all days of the conference.

Schools' Exhibition bookings are open now, and those interested in participating should complete the link here in the first instance. Someone will be in touch in autumn term nearer the time with fuller advice.

For any queries please email conferences@ase.org.uk

SCAN
ME!

Schools and STEM clubs are encouraged to join our lively, relaxed Schools' Exhibition on Saturday 11th January from 11:15 for a couple of hours, as part of our flagship Annual Conference 2025.

This session is about networking with other science educators who present a science or STEM project happening in their classrooms or local STEM clubs, within an informal setting, encouraging the sharing of best practice to inspire engagement.

Each school will be provided with a table and a poster board, to display any resources, photos and student work, with the aim of showing how motivating and useful their science project has been for their students.

One or two teachers from each school are invited to provide a display including artefacts or posters and talk about their project.

There is no charge for any school/teacher taking part (maximum 2 per school) and participants receive one full, free day-place on the Saturday, enabling valuable professional learning opportunities during the day, along with a free visit to the suppliers' exhibition which has exclusive offers for delegates.