

ASE International

No 11 ■ December 2020

Contents

- 2  About the journal
- 4  Editorial
- 6  Engaging children with science: A 'science capital' approach
Louise Archer
- 12  Introducing scientists to primary children: Does this always enhance children's science capital?
Alison J. Trew, Ruth Shallcross, Kate Redhead
- 20  One year on – science capital in primary PGCE students: Factors influencing its development and its impact on science teaching
David Jones, Sally Spicer
- 27  News from our partners – Does your classroom help children learn?
Gratnells
- 29  The role of health and biology literacy in the era of the COVID-19 pandemic
Nikolaos Fotou, Marina Constantinou
- 33  Reframing science education in light of the COVID-19 pandemic
Sibel Erduran
- 40  Towards a viable response to COVID-19 from the science education community
Justin Dillon, Lucy Avraamidou
- 46  News from ASE
- 47  About ASE

Cover credit: iStock/com